About This Game

You got one bullet, fire it wisely as one mistake may cause you death in this fast paced game. Choose from a selection of abilities to survive in difficult situations and master them to become the champion of the Velvet Guard. Change up your gameplay with many of the available game options and get that sweet victory you've always wanted!

Velvet guard is my first commercially available game and one of my first finished games since I started to make games 3 years ago, it's an 8-player party game centering around its core mechanic; one bullet. With different gamemodes and options each gameplay is never the same, with a wide array of abilities and expressive depth the game can be quite challenging.

Notable features:

- Diverse abilities to change up your gameplay and challenge your skills
- More than 20 different ways of playing
- Fast paced combat

- A wide range of levels with their own unique style and interactions
 - An online mode to play with friends all around the world

The controls are simple but with layers of expressive depth, there's also a wide range of abilities that makes the gameplay even more challenging!

This masterpiece is one of those games you can play with your friends on LAN parties til 4AM. Though it was also cool to play your version of the game on the arcade machine at school :P. For five bucks, this game is well designed, but it gets boring pretty quickly. I like it, and it's pretty fun to just mess around with the power ups.

However, if you're looking to get tons of hours out of this game, you probably won't.
